Tenured Faculty Position in Neutron Science Laboratory

at the Institute for Solid State Physics (ISSP), the University of Tokyo

The Institute for Solid State Physics (ISSP) of the University of Tokyo has long history in basic science of solid-state materials, and Neutron Science Laboratory (NSL) has promoted neutron science by developing and using advanced neutron facilities at Japan Proton Accelerator Research Complex (J-PARC) and Japan Research Reactor (JRR-3). ISSP is seeking an outstanding candidate for this research, who will be one of the members of NSL.

The Number of Open Positions and Affiliation

One tenured Associate Professor in the Neutron Science Laboratory

Research Subject

ISSP seeks an outstanding young candidate who promotes solid state physics by using high resolution chopper (HRC) spectrometer in J-PARC and triple axis spectrometers in JRR-3, and contributes to general user program of neutron scattering. He/she is expected to promote research keeping connection with people in the Quantum Materials Group in ISSP. He/she is required to take share of the works on the general user program and US-Japan cooperative program on neutron scattering.

Applicants must have a Ph.D. or equivalent degree in a relevant field, or otherwise must get a degree before the starting date of appointment. Applications should include the following documents prepared either in English or Japanese and should be sent by post or alternatively by E-mail to the address below. All the documents must arrive no later than September 28, 2018.

1) CV with photo including academic record and professional career
2) Complete list of publications (mark five most important papers)
3) Copy of the five papers marked above
4) Summary of research accomplishments (up to three pages)
5) Research plan (up to three pages)
6) List of two persons (including email address, phone number) for reference Applicants must arrange for a Letter of Recommendation to be sent directly from a recommender to ISSP. The recommender should be different from the two persons for reference in the item 6).

Application documents should be addressed to:
(Online submission:)
First, send an e-mail to the following e-mail address.
< ISSP general affairs office >  issp-jinji@issp.u-tokyo.ac.jp
State “Application for Tenured Faculty Position in Neutron Science Laboratory” in the subject line.
Do not attach any documents.
Secondly, upload the application documents. The URL for upload will be informed.

(Postal mail submission:)
Send application documents enclosed in an envelope and clearly labeled in red color “Application for Tenured Faculty Position in Neutron Science Laboratory” on the front. The documents should be sent by registered mail.
