

A Research Associate Position
at the Institute for Solid State Physics (ISSP), the University of Tokyo

Okazaki's group in ISSP is seeking outstanding candidates for a research associate position in the Laser and Synchrotron Research Center. The successful candidate will collaborate with Assoc. Prof. Kozo Okazaki, and will conduct research on investigation of emergence mechanism of novel physical properties like exotic superconductivity using high-resolution laser ARPES and/or realization of controlling physical properties of materials by light. The researcher who is interested in these research themes of materials science and develops advanced laser-based photoemission spectroscopy is strongly encouraged.

The successful candidate is also expected to play an active role in supervising laboratory activities of the graduate students. The initial appointment is for five years. An extension for five more years will be considered based on the performance in the first period. The position is now open, and the term should start at the earliest possible date.

Applicants must have a Ph.D. or equivalent degree in a relevant field, or otherwise must get a degree before the starting date of appointment. Applications should include the following documents prepared either in English or Japanese and should be sent by post or alternatively by online. All the documents must arrive no later than May 31st, 2019.

- 1) CV with photo including academic record and professional career
- 2) Complete list of publications (mark three most important papers)
- 3) Copy of the papers marked above
- 4) Summary of research accomplishments (up to two pages)
- 5) Research plan (up to two pages)
- 6) Letter of recommendation (applicant should arrange a letter of recommendation to be sent directly from a recommender to ISSP)

The documents should be submitted in one of the following ways:

(A) Online submission

First, send an e-mail to issp-jinji@issp.u-tokyo.ac.jp with the e-mail subject being "Application for research associate position (Okazaki Lab.)". (The message body can be blank. Do not attach any documents.) Wait for the message from ISSP including the URL for upload. Then, upload the application documents.

(B) Postal mail submission

Send application documents enclosed in an envelope with an on-arrival notation "Application for research associate position (Okazaki Lab.)" in red on the front. The documents should be sent by registered mail to the following address:
Administration Office,
The Institute for Solid State Physics, The University of Tokyo,
5-1-5 Kashiwanoha, Kashiwa, Chiba 277-8581, JAPAN

The University of Tokyo is committed to gender equality in hiring. Questions about the document submission procedure should be addressed to issp-jinji@issp.u-tokyo.ac.jp. For other questions, contact Assoc. Prof. K. Okazaki at okazaki@issp.u-tokyo.ac.jp.
